CHURCH OF CHRIST

Our Rally Day was a real success considering the weather last Sunday. One hundred and twenty-eight persons were at the bible school and enjoyed the lesson and program. A basket dinner was served in the basement of the church following the program. We believe this victory was, but the beginning of a larger and closer fellowship in the service of Christ for the winter months.

Next Sunday, October 26 the services will be as follows: regular morning church service 10:30; message, "The March Through the Wilderness." Bible school at 11:30. Christian Endeavor 7:00 p.m. Evening service 8:00; sermon, "The Purpose of the Gifts of Christ."

Prayer meeting and choir practice Wednesday evening at 8 and 9 p.m. "Come all ye that labor and are heavy-laden and find rest."

GLASS TARIFF

First step in carrying out the Government threat that tariff privileges would be revoked if they were utilized as a means of raising prices, was taken last week. An order in council was passed abolishing recent amendments of window glass tariff schedules, and making effective the old rates.

EXCELLENT CONCERTS BY VULCAN PRIZE BAND

Before very appreciative audiences the Vulcan band put on two of the finest concerts of the season, showing their desire of bringing before the public the very best talent by engaging those eminent artists, Miss Evelyn Pearson, violinist; Mr. John Pickersgill, euphoniumist; and Miss Hartwig, soprano. The talent exhibited by these artists, is an incentive to higher lights in the musical life of Vulcan.

Miss Pearson who is only 15 years of age, walked right into the hearts of violin lovers by the wonderful way she manipulated that instrument. Articulation, tone and stage deportment being almost perfect, we predict a brilliant future for her. Very noticeable also was the accompaniments on the piano by Miss Beulah Walker, Mrs. Dr. Beddingfield and Miss Mabel McPherson, which meant such a lot to the artists, their playing was of a very high order.

The programme was as follows: "Oh Canada"; Chairman's remarks; band, march, "Mounted Police"; solo, Miss Hartwig, selected; selection, band, "Golden Scepter"; violin solo, Miss Evelyn Pearson, "Gypsy Airs," "Air on the G String"; band selection, "Bandmen's Delight"; Euphonium solo, J. Pickersgill, "Rule Britannia"; violin solo, Miss Pearson, "Caratina," "Swiss Lullaby"; band selection, "Spirit of Youth"; solo, Miss Hartwig; Euphonium solo, J. Pickersgill, "Felicity"; band selection, "American Legion"; violin solo, Miss Pearson. God Save the King. Mayor Butchart was the efficient chairman.

HOCKEY NOTES

The boys are getting impatient for the season to open. Well that time will soon be here.

One of these days we will have them all together limbering up under the wintry eye of a real physical trainer, and then there will be groans.

Everyone is asking what kind of a team are you having? Nay, nay, Pauline, we are not to be drawn, but you can grab one of the players off when they get going.

We are in the league and will have a team that will make a good showing. Further than that, "nuf sed!"

We expected to have the season tickets on sale by now, but just go on saving your pennies we will be along for them.

In answer to Dumb Dolores we would say that we are going to be generous and give the other teams in the league the players we don't want.

After the league meeting on November 2nd we will be able to print the schedule of games. Let's hope our first game will be at home so that the skeptics can be confounded or otherwise. Good word that "confounded" isn't it?

MILO NEWS

Tuesday evening several young people met at the Baptist Parsonage to re-organize the "Young People's Society". It was decided that the meeting be carried on in strictly parliamentary order. All young folk are invited to attend.

The Literary Society held its weekly meeting at the United Church basement, Thursday evening. A good program was enjoyed by all those present.

The Junior U.F.A. held a program and social evening in the Pioneer School on Friday evening.

Miss Nixon came to Milo on Tuesday to take up her duties as stenographer in the Municipal office.

DOROTHY HICKMAN WINS PRIZE OFFERED BY ELKS

Following is the prize essay in connection with Reid Hill School Fair Prize offered by Vulcan Lodge, No. 121, B.P.O.E., and won by Dorothy Hickman.

Canada's Part in the Development of Alberta

Previous to the year 1905 that strip of Western Canada lying directly east of British Columbia was called the North West Territories. In the year 1905, two provinces known as Alberta and Saskatchewan were formed from this tract of land.

The province of Alberta stretches from the 49th to the 60th parallel of latitude and varies in width from 180 to 400 miles, with an area reaching, approximately 281,000 square miles.

In the year 1927 the population was rated at 588,454. The majority of this number are English-speaking people, although in later years many people of foreign birth have entered our province.

The lakes and rivers in the northern portion of the province teem with fish. In this part we also find valuable timber lands. Salt mining has sprung up here as well. Seven per cent. of the world's supply of coal is found in our province of Alberta. There are now three hundred coal mines in operation. Natural gas is being found in many parts of the province. The Royallite No. 4 well, south-west of Calgary, gives gas at the rate of twenty million cubic feet per day. During the last two years oil development has become an important industry. A few miles from Okotoks we have many valuable oil wells. This oil field is more generally known as Turner Valley. The number of wells now producing is 25.

In 1909 a park area was established at Wainwright, comprising approximately 100,000 acres. This was fenced and then became known as Buffalo National Park. It is the largest wild animal enclosure and contains the largest buffalo herd now in existence. At this time 750 buffalo were purchased by the government and put in the park. In the time that has elapsed to the present date there are now 8,000 head in the park.

The Rocky Mountains which form the boundary line between British Columbia and Alberta, have proved to be a great attraction to tourists, bringing people from all parts of the world.

Until just a few years ago the northern part of Alberta has been unsettled. But within the last two years it has been found that the land here can be cultivated and this has led to a "land boom" in that part of Alberta known as the "Peace River District." Families from all parts of our province have travelled to the far north and established homes for themselves. In the earlier part of his movement in the north, these were long and tedious owing to the fact that they could travel only by trails and cross the streams with the help of canoes. But now the trips are much more easily made due to the fact that railroads have penetrated this new land. And this might be a fitting place to say a little more of what the railroads have done for our province. One would almost be called upon to travel back many years to the time when our first great railway "The Canadian Pacific," began to be a reality. Previous to the year 1878, little was known of our great western lands, except that there were miles upon miles of plains with the bison and buffalo herds roaming about. That these plains could ever support families, was unheard of, at least, unthought of. But when this first trans-continental was completed in 1885, it opened up new possibilities, and in a short time, by the offer of reduced rates, etc., people were rushing towards our new West, ready to take up homesteads and thus farming, as an industry, had its start. It soon became evident that these plains of the West and particularly those of Alberta, were well suited to the raising of grains of various kinds, and especially suitable to the growing of wheat, oats, flax, barley and rye are successfully raised, but in Southern Alberta wheat is our mainstay and the growth of this "wheat farming" has forced the farmer into more up-to-date farming equipment. Perhaps at no other point in the world can be found modern methods and machinery.

They say there's no back seat driving in airplanes. Perhaps that is why the pilots soar heavenward so easily.

A man reproached for spending his money in educating his son, claimed that he'd rather leave his wealth in the boy than to him.

WHO ARE DESERVING

Evidence is not lacking that the direct relief fund for the winter will be subject to endless attempts at imposition. Many reports come in showing a shiftless attitude on the part of numbers of men on threshing crews. The vision of $20,000,000 for the winter hangs enticingly before them. They may not grasp much of Canadian plans and standards, but they have grasped the idea that $20-000,000 looms brightly in the future —all for them. So why worry, or why save? With this utterly false conception of the use of the emergency fund—a fund which comes from all hard working self-respecting citizens—they are going gaily ahead, squandering their wages, secure in the thought that a benign government will minister to them later on. Others go still farther and scorn to work at all, so long as they have enough for a few days ahead. They say "Why work? We'll be fed all right."

This as every one knows does not apply to all laborers. Many are exercising every effort to hoard enough to put themselves through the slack times. But these also are the ones who will suffer in their self respect, and only with the greatest reluctance will apply for help. Given a fair chance, they will be no problem.

The real problem is how to handle the wasters, what to do with these men who are recklessly wasting their wages now, definitely planning to become a charge on the country at the first opportunity.

They deserve no consideration of any sort. Yet how can any government sift out these undeserving from the deserving. It would seem that some strict form of registration, similar to war time registration, would be in order, and that the work record of every citizen would be on file and available. In the present unusual circumstances, it is difficult to see why conscription measures for work would not be quite as remarkable as conscription measures during war time.

To be sure, this again brings up the dubious principle of instituting public works to create employment, especially when the same work at another time of the year could be done more efficiently and in much less time.

But as between the financial loss to the country in "creating" work, and the infinitely more serious loss in self-respect and morale of maintaining idle men, it would matter to take the money loss until matters are adjusted.

If the government can make it possible for all men to get work of some sort, then every unemployed man this winter can be presented with the alternative—of working or starving. If he doesn't like it, then he will quickly vanish.

GRAIN SLOGAN PRIZE

Some lucky person will win $500 for the best grain slogan in connection with the World's Grain Exhibition at Regina in 1932. This is the prize being offered to the individual who can best condense the spirit of the exhibition into brief and catchy phrasing, numbering not more than ten words in all. The contest closes January 31, 1931, so ambitious entrants have a few crackling words.

A TANGLED WEB

There are well nigh as many suggestions for handling the unemployment problem as there are people in Canada. One thought is that a logical extension for the Made in Canada goods by Made in Canada people." It sounds reasonable too, that those who for three and four generations have helped to make Canada, whose grandfathers made farms from forests, should have first rights of employment.

In line with this idea is another.
That an emergency fund would be well spent in assisting newly arrived foreigners to return to their own lands. There are many arrived within the last few years, who have no particular stake, who have no constructive plans for their future.
To these it would be no great loss to return from whence they came. But it would give those more entitled to a chance in Canada an infinitely better "break." It would probably be a less costly policy in the long run to weed out these strangers now, instead of spending a generation or two in trying to mould them to Canadian standards, at the sacrifice of ready made Canadians now on hand.

After research we find that a number of Maritimers have been putting one over on us. They have claimed that "Bluenose" indicates their aristocratic lineage. We learn however, that the term refers to the effect of the Atlantic winds, or possibly to a brand of potato that they grew with considerable success. They must now base their claims to hereditary greatness on something else.

In future years the era in which we are now living will be looked upon as a pioneering period of aviation. Not only are certain phases of aviation still in experimental stage, but airplanes are penetrating lands hitherto unexplored. Airmen are a new race of pioneers charting the skies, discovering new lands. Particularly is this true of Western Canada, where aviation history is being made daily.

One's thoughts turn to the brave pilots of the western air mail planes which are used today carrying messages to remote isolated corners of the north. The pilots must be hardy veterans, past masters in skill and initiative and daring. Many, who today are penetrating the unknown mysteries of the Arctic Circle as part of their everyday duty, won their wings in the initiation of the World War.

Every day unsuspectingly, these pioneers are furnishing the press of the world with tales of toil and humor and heroism, of dangerous battles with wind and weather. Unknown hazards of fog and storm are breasted, landing places are few, yet matter of fact they carry their cargoes to trappers, ranchers, prospectors at inaccessible points—not only cargoes of mail, but food, medicines and other vital necessities.

One thinks of a 1600 mile air route which ends on the shores of the Arctic in the coming winter months.
One thinks of the air route between Simpson and McMurray. Many mishaps may happen over the 800 or 1600 miles of wilderness in the way of mechanical trouble and heavy storm. Yet steadily the work will progress till the whole northern wilderness is linked with civilization, future years to the pilots whose names are everyday news today.

THANKSGIVING

Every year at this time the matter of Armistice day as quite separate in meaning and intention from Thanksgiving day, comes up. This year Thanksgiving day will be held on November 10 which is the nearest Monday to November 11th. It is the idea of some that Thanksgiving Day and Armistice Day should be combined as one.

Others however, and notably the Canadian Legion will never be likely to recognize the shifting of Armistice Day back and forth to meet the prior requirements of a Monday Thanksgiving holiday. To them Armistice Day is November 11 and no other day. To them also, Armistice Day has a much deeper significance than a mere holiday.

So there is no doubt that some simple ceremony at the eleventh hour of the eleventh of November, will be observed in every community. So long at least as this generation lasts there will be no confusion of mind regarding the observance of the two special days.

MUNICIPAL DOCTOR

Experiment Being Conducted by Saskatchewan With Apparent Success

Saskatchewan is experimenting in a municipal doctor scheme which appears to be meeting with favor in certain areas. The experiment was set on foot in the 1928-29 session of legislature.

The success or failure of the scheme hinges to a great extent on the doctor employed. Not one municipality which has tried has reported the by-law, which would indicate some satisfaction. Financially the doctor is much better off, because he has no bad debts.

It approaches in conception the idea of a Full Time Health Unit.

The act provides that any rural municipality may make a grant to a medical doctor up to $1,500 a year, or may engage a practitioner as a full-time public servant at a salary not exceeding $5,000. Nineteen municipalities have engaged doctors as full time public officers, paying salaries of $3,500 to $5,000 a year. The municipal doctor is required to act as M. H.O. treat all indigents free, inoculate children against diphtheria and vaccinate them against smallpox, and give free service to all resident ratepayers, their families and dependents. In some of the agreements the doctor also undertakes to give all school children in the municipality a physical examination annually.

Apparently the cost works out to about $3.85 a quarter section or $10 for the average farm. A rural municipality is generally an area of 18 square miles so that a doctor living in the centre of it is within easy distance of all his patients. Ten dollars a year is a very small price to pay for the insurance of medical aid and advice within call at all times. In one municipality where a doctor has been engaged for some years the council also pays for the services of a nurse for any ratepayer for fifteen days in any one year when in the doctor's opinion a nurse is required. A nurse is supplied at the expense of the council in all maternity cases for nine days and longer if necessary. In 1928 the nursing service cost this municipality $2,063. The municipality has a population of 1,350.

NOW THE FRUIT BELT

Annually Province Makes Progress in the Growing of Fruit

Alberta grown canteloupes and watermelons are the latest gardening achievement. These have been taken in wagon loads from the farm of Mack Higdon of Manyberries. They are grown on irrigated land, some of the watermelons weighing 20 pounds or more. In all parts of Alberta huge pumpkins are ripening in the fields. In the Vulcan district and in our own district—not to mention points all over the province—there are increasingly successful growths of crabapples, plums, apples and other fruit trees.

Small fruits are responding to proper care and are becoming a common place achievement. The province is merely in the infant stage so far as any attempt at the growing of fruit is concerned, and efforts have been so successful in comparison with the struggle of many other provinces, which however, after long years have proved themselves, that there is an encouraging future ahead of us.

A little study and attention, a consistent attention to the planting of windbreak, and in another ten years or so, home grown fruits will be generally in evidence.

This year the local stores have had for sale, Alberta grown cranberries, from the Edmonton district. These, though smaller than the imported cranberry are deliciously flavored.

Work is under way in twelve different areas of Alberta, to meet the unemployment situation.

HOVERING RUSSIA

So Long as Peasantry of Russia Submits to Exploitation, it Will be a Detrimental Factor to World Trade

Seasoned thinkers are of the opinion that Russia's entry into the world wheat market cannot be regarded as a mere flash in the pan. It will probably loom as a factor over other wheat producing areas in the future. The great element of difference between Russia and the other countries is that the Russian peasantry maintain no standard of living, comparable with the other countries. If they lived as Canadians seek to live, the competition would not be such a serious matter. With 140,000,000 Russians to feed it would normally require 700,000,000 bushels a year for seed and feed and flour. On the other hand the vast population is rationed, doled out the cheaper grains, in order that the wheat may be sold in export. Russia needs the money to build up her industrial life. And if there is no change in the Russian standards of living, that country will have to be faced as a formidable obstacle to higher priced wheat.

The likelihood is that Canadians will be faced either with the choice of growing less wheat or of making each acre produce more.

GOODYEARS

It is true that all tires are not alike. And it's obvious that all tires are not the same value. That's why we sell Goodyears only.

We've watched Goodyear Tires in use for a good many years. We're satisfied that they give longest mileage. We're sold on Supertwist and the All-Weather Tread. And Goodyear gives us a complete line of tires to meet all needs.

It's true we don't make quite as much money per tire. But we sell a lot more tires.

OPERATE IN CANADA

While the statement that Canada is the best customer of the United States has been made for some time and is undoubtedly true, it is, nevertheless, a fact that American manufacturers are far from realizing the full extent of the commercial opportunities awaiting them in the Dominion.

This statement refers not only to the domestic market in Canada for American-made commodities, great as is the buying-power of the population north of the border; but it bears directly upon what will prove for many manufacturers in the United States a channel of greater importance than the domestic market of the Dominion—the advantages of exporting from Canadian due to preferential tariffs and favoured trade arrangements with foreign countries.

Consider these facts: Canada has preferential tariff with 29 other British countries and favoured trade arrangements with 43 foreign countries. Canada stands second among all nations in the world in export trade on a per capita basis and fifth in aggregate world trade, surpassed only by the United States, the United Kingdom, Germany and France. Canada is thus in a strong position as an exporting nation, and her preferential tariffs with other British countries, and her favoured trade arrangements with all leading foreign countries, offer enormous advantages.

Canada has every facility for manufacturing—excellent industrial sites, skilled labour, abundant resources and raw materials, favourable taxes, extensive and economical electrical power, a Government policy that encourages and assists new industries, banks that offer valuable co-operation, commercial organizations that provide important help, superior railway transportation, Canadian ports and shipping facilities rank with the best in the world.

THE GILDED EARL

The strange and somewhat pathetic position in which the middle-aged Earl of Egmont finds himself, is still of enthralling interest to the Sunday supplements of the old country.

They picture the locked gates of Avon Castle, the silence which hangs over the ancestral estate. Occasionally the sturdy Earl emerges, wanders down to the village to buy groceries and to carry them home himself. It is a strange sight for the villagers. No staff of servants is employed at Avon Castle. The Earl and his sixteen year-old son, Viscount Percival and a man servant are all who come and go.

The likelihood is that the ancestral castle may be sold, leaving the Earl free to roam at will. The death duties of the estate are an impossible burden, and apparently there is no compensating happiness in being in possession of the family magnificence.

As one writer says: "Every year of toil, every callous on horny hand, a life time's practice in resignation to monotony, poverty, and disappointment—these are no training for lordly idleness. Nothing to do. No chores o'morning, no little general store where all men meet as friends, to exchange the day's news. Not even the weather matters now, because bread will come, whatever may happen the crops. Forty years of roughing it on the prairie do not fit a man for life as a county magnate. He has no points of contact with other county folk. Their ways are not his ways. And he is lonely."

When this dreary and no doubt, truthful picture is presented, fully 99 per cent. of us can give thanks that we at least, will never find ourselves in such a position as our old neighbor, the Earl of Egmont.

R. V. Eaton, president of T. Eaton Co., says the end of depression has been reached.

PROTEIN FOR MILK

To supply protein economically and in sufficient quantities to milk cows is one of the farmer's perpetual troubles.

The "chop" from crops grown on the farm are usually somewhat low in protein. Clover, alfalfa and other legumes are what is usually depended on for protein content, and leguminous hays help somewhat. It is often however, that the farmer is obliged to purchase concentrated feed to produce a high milk yield. His difficulty is to get the best value. Bran with a protein content of 15 per cent. is not equal weight for weight of all-weather meal with 35 per cent. Distillers dried grains is a prominent protein feed.

Corn and rye are the most commonly used for this purpose, corn being decidedly richer in protein and lower in fibre than rye.

More than 800 threshers' licenses had been issued by the Provincial Government of Alberta up to August 28th, indicating that the Alberta harvest was well advanced. Most of the threshing licenses were for points in the southern part of the province, none up to that time having been issued for the Edmonton section. Last year the total of licenses issued came to 6,356 and this year's figure is expected to exceed that.

No Trade SECRETS

The light and power industry is the one great national manufacturing enterprise in which there are no trade secrets.

Any improvements in the art of generating, distributing or utilizing electric energy in the form of light or power are immediately given to the whole world. The manufacturer who generates his own electricity, or any municipal plant, is free to draw upon the experience of engineers and scientists who are devoting their lives to the improvement of the service of electricity supply.

In other words, the fruits of research and pioneering made possible by the principal of individual initiative and enterprise, which is the foundation of our economic, social and political structure, and which has made Canada one of the most progressive countries on earth, are given freely to all and withheld from none.

This is one of the ways in which the electrical industry fulfills its conception of its obligation to the public.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

One hears the warning frequently given that our soil is going to lose its fertility and play out. But the original pioneer wheat farm of this district, the farm on which Mr. Shaw first grew wheat more than forty years ago, has yielded steadily and constantly through the years and this fall has produced 50 bushels to the acre. This land is now a part of H. B. Macleod's farm property and has had good cultivation through the years but no other treatment.

RELATIVE PRICE

The price of a loaf of bread in Great Britain is 16 cents for a four pound loaf. In Germany, with a tariff on wheat, it is eight cents a pound for the white wheat flour loaf. In Italy with a still higher tariff, it is 11 cents a pound, though the bread is much inferior to the British loaf. Is it any wonder that the Labor Government of Great Britain hesitates about putting an import tax on wheat?—Lethbridge Herald.

TURNER OUTLOOK

Opinions Expressed by A. B. Thompson, British Geologist

"The Turner Valley district is not an oil but a gas field. The oil taken out is merely a spray which comes up with the gas. However, oil is being produced and will be an important field for a long time."

The speaker said Turner Valley is technically different from most oil fields. There is limestone which is difficult to drill through, there is high pressure, the wells are crooked and there are weather conditions to contend with, he stated.

Freezing, according to Mr. Thompson is largely due to defective work, but he believed this difficulty will soon be overcome.

Presenting statistics which show the production of Turner Valley, Mr. Thompson said the waste of gas is causing much concern in both commercial and official offices.

The value of production is about $4,000,000 per year, he said, and approximately $25,000,000 is the annual value of wasted gas. Those working on the field are giving their attention to the conservation of gas, said the speaker, and experts should, before long, discover some means of retaining it.

Experiments have been conducted in an attempt to return gas to the earth but little has been accomplished along these lines he asserted.

The Red Man Tries the Pipes

Sandy has a broad grin on his face as he watches brother Redman take a fling at the bagpipes which he has loaned him for a moment to try his luck. The Indian is all intent on his unaccustomed task and since it is only a photograph and not a sound picture you can contemplate the scene without misgivings. Photograph was taken during the recent Highland Gathering and Scottish Music Festival held at Banff, Alberta.

UNDER CONTROL OR NO CONTROL?

UNDER CONTROL: with beer being sold by reputable licensed hotels under government supervision.

NO CONTROL: with bootleggers running rampant as in the old prohibition days.

Reasons why you should NOT sign the prohibition petition urging the government to abolish the sale of beer by the glass or bottle, thus doing away with the beer rooms, clubs and canteens.

1. The proposal to disturb the act comes from a small body of people whose social theories have not withstood the test of actual experience.

2. The Trades and Labor Congress are on record as being in favor of the sale of beer-by-the-glass.

3. By virtue of the local option provisions of the act, communities may extinguish a license when a majority of public opinions so expresses itself.

4. No license has been withdrawn as a result of a local option vote either in 1929 or 1930, though licenses attacked were at points where conditions appeared to the prohibitionists, as favorable to a dry result.

5. In a total of 58 local option votes taken since the act came into force only four licenses have been cancelled as a result of votes; and these licenses were, in every case, adversely affected by peculiar local influence.

6. Absence of criticism at the last two provincial elections.

7. Hotel accommodation, particularly at country points, has improved as a result of the act, to a standard unequalled in any other province.

8. The general endorsement of the act by the travelling public and the willingness of the public generally to assist in enforcing the act by giving information regarding infraction and interdicting those needing protection from their own weakness.

9. Bootlegging and moonshining have been eliminated as remunerative pursuits. This, together with strict government control, has placed all intoxicating liquor beyond the reach of minors; fewer cases of intoxication in the police courts, in spite of a considerable increase in population. Leave the police of the province free to perform their natural functions, that of protecting the people, not taking up their time trying to enforce what has proved to be unenforceable legislation. Remember you cannot legislate men's minds, because they will never obey a law they do not respect. This was proven in prohibition days.

10. The operation of the act provides a large public revenue (4 1-2 cents of every 10c expended) this has helped to increase the general revenue of the province and prevent increased taxation. Formerly such revenue went to the bootleggers and moonshiners.

11. Official reports commend the act as eminently practical. They contain no important criticism of the act's clauses. Police reports indicate a continuous improvement in the general state of law and order.

12. The real motive prompting the petition is to render the act unworkable by eliminating the retail sale of beer-by-the-glass or bottle; the ultimate aim being a return to total prohibition.

If the beer rooms and clubs are abolished what does the Prohibition Party suggest to take their place? Is it to be liquor for the wealthy and prohibition for the worker?
